FIELD TRIPS

29/30 August - Mudgee area. Travel to Mudgee Friday evening. Visit the active Buckeroo and Mt Knowles dolomite quarries on Saturday. Minerals to be found are calcite, quartz and micros of rancieite (rare calcium-manganese oxide). Sunday yet to be decided but could include wine tasting.

16/17/18 October – Mineral Hill Mine. The mine is currently on care and maintenance. Travel to Condoblin on Friday and collect on the dumps on Saturday and Sunday morning. Malachite and azurite are plentiful but getting good specimens will be hard work. A range of other minerals can also be found. We are lucky to have Adam McKinnon as our host. He is currently working on Mineral Hill and will be able to give us a detailed insight into the mine and the mineralisation.

Those interested in either or both trips should notify John Chapman

by phone on 9808 3481 or email at chapmanjr@optusnet.com.au .

Further details and itineraries will be provided in due course.

JULY MEETING

At the commencement of the July Meeting John Chapman advised that he was looking into organizing a field trip to the Mudgee area over the weekend of 15th/16th of August. He was hoping to obtain permission for a party to go into the Kandos quarry. Members attending the trip would need to travel to Mudgee on Friday the 14th to join the party early on Saturday morning. Visiting a working quarry would involve the party being given mine training, safety and orientation instructions by company personnel before being allowed to look for specimens. After visiting the Kandos quarry other collecting sites in the Mudgee area could then be examined on the Sunday.

John Chapman was also hoping to arrange a trip to Mineral Hill where Society member Adam McKinnon now works and who would be able to show a party around the site. This would have to be a three to four day trip and was being planned for the weekend of 17th/18th of October. Attendees would have to leave Sydney and travel to the Condoblin area during Friday the 16th to join the party on Saturday morning which would probably also spend Sunday at the site.

Graham Ogle announced that the next meeting of the micro-mineral group was to be held at Ann and Noel Kennon's house in Dapto at 11.00 a.m. on the morning of Saturday the 18th of July. The group was holding about five meetings a year and any members interested in attending should contact Graham Ogle for information.

Arthur Roffey advised that the lecture program for this evening had been slightly changed due to the first scheduled speaker, Bruce Myles, being indisposed and in his place Peter Williams and Jim Sharpe would give talks on a recent uncommon specimen find and on new mineral updates.

Mineral specimen find.

Jim Sharpe reported that just some two weeks previously his wife had been contacted by a friend who wished to dispose of two boxes of Broken Hill specimens which had been collected by her ex-husband. In examining the collection of specimens which were wrapped in newspaper of 1985 vintage, Jim had found that whilst most were of average quality and interest one of the last items unwrapped was of an impressively large specimen of the manganese sulphide, alabandite  $Mn^{+2}S$ , and which he had brought in to the Meeting to display. Alabandite is not a rare mineral being found in many locations around the world although large specimens are uncommon and Broken Hill has probably been the best location in Australia for quality specimens. Good specimens elsewhere in the world have come from only a few places such as Tombstone in Arizona.

Even Broken Hill did not produce much alabandite with amounts and specimens being found only over a short period of time. It was first noted in 1965 and the late Laurie Lawrence wrote an article in 1968 referring to a third occurrence with material being found in fractures in rock on the boundaries between the N.B.H.C. and Zinc Corporation workings. Alabandite is an olive-green colour on freshly fractured surfaces but these oxidize to the black manganese oxide hausmannite. Members were invited to examine the specimen which the speaker felt was a commendable example of a mineral uncommonly found in such condition. In researching alabandite through the Internet the speaker had found specimens which were not as good as this one on sale for US$2,000.
